Strong Co. Employees Unable To Find Work Since Shutdown

SEBRING — "Sure it's tough," a spokesman for some 400 jobless in this town of 4,000 persons said today.

"Ever try to find a family on $10 a week? We can't get jobs and we're not eligible for unemployment compensation," Dale Beckett told a reporter.

Official Shot To Death By Girl Friend

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An attractive, 20-year-old air line stewardess told police she fatally shot a company official during a quarrel yesterday after he accused her of dating other men.

Lawrence E. Keil, 43, married and father of two children, was found in a parked automobile, wounded six times. He died a short time later.

Police Chief Browne Hairgrove of suburban Overland said the Ozark Air Lines stewardess, Betty Lou Tracy, signed a statement admitting she shot Keil with his own gun.

"I fired the gun until it would not fire any more," the chief quoted the petite, green-eyed brown-haired girl as saying.

Gives Shooting Version

The chief said she gave the following version:

She returned from a flight to Rockford, Ill., and was met by Keil at the airport. After a meal, they parked across the street from her apartment.

He repeatedly asked her if she had associated with other men, then announced: "I am going to kill you."

He asked her to get his gun, which she had taken from him during a previous visit, from her apartment.

Fired At Him In Car

She got it, returned to the car, and fired as both stepped into the vehicle through opposite doors.

She ran to her apartment and told another girl who also lived there. The other girl called a funeral home operator, who found Keil and took him to the hospital.

Chief Hairgrove said the girl told him in a statement which she later signed that Keil had threatened her on several occasions.

Keil had been superintendent of stations for Ozark Air Lines since March 1. Before that he was regional traffic manager at Memphis, Tenn.

Redfield Guest Held In Robbery

Song Writer Nabbed With $50,000, Jewels

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — A 36-year-old brunette song writer held as the possible finger-woman of the $1,500,000 Redfield burglary at Reno screamed hysterically in her jail cell today.

FBI agents took her off an eastbound train here yesterday afternoon. She had $50,000 in cash, 28 pieces of jewelry and a package of securities.

Mrs. Marie Jeanne D'Arc Machaud is held under $100,000 bond on a charge of interstate transportation of stolen property.

She had been a guest in the La Verne Redfield home so often that he said he was "shocked and greatly upset" by her arrest. "Why, I trusted her implicitly," he added.

Upon awakening in her cell, Mrs. Machaud started screaming in French and English. She huddled on her cot with two blankets piled on her head. A jail matron sat at the foot of the bed, watching every move.

A hearing on her removal to Reno was scheduled for this afternoon.

Is 6th Person Arrested

The blue-eyed French-Canadian writer-artist is the sixth person arrested in connection with the Feb. 29 burglary. Four are men, two women.

Mrs. Machaud was arrested yesterday on the California Limited enroute to Chicago. She was arraigned on charges of conspiring to transport stolen goods across state lines. Bail was set at $100,000.

The $50,000 which FBI agents said she carried was the biggest piece of loot yet reported recovered. Arresting agents made no estimate of the value of seized goods.

Morris To Testify On Red Affiliations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government cleanup man Newbold Morris, fresh from one investigation in which he verbally slugged it out with senators, was booked today for another within a month.

Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) announced he will call Morris before his Senate Judiciary Committee "before the Easter recess" to tell under oath whether he ever was associated with Communist front activities.

Rep. Potter (R-Mich.) has told the House in a speech that Morris came to the government cleanup job with "a sordid background" of association with Communist front groups. Potter said this is recorded in the files of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Morris has vigorously denied he ever consciously had anything to do with Communist front groups.

In other developments: Morris said in an address before a New York Episcopal group yesterday that he will send out questionnaires to top federal officials Tuesday, the first to Attorney General McGrath.

Morris announced in Washington that he has appointed Samuel Becker, a New York attorney, as his chief counsel.

Decision Due Thursday On Steel Strike

Fleischmann Warns Walkout Would Hit Defense Effort Hard

WASHINGTON (AP) — Production Administrator Manly Fleischmann said today that if the threatened steel strike occurs, it would have "disastrous" effects on the atomic energy and other vital defense programs.

Some of the industry will start shutting down Tuesday in anticipation of a strike at midnight Sunday.

Fleischmann told a news conference that if the strike should come "the most drastic possible controls would have to be imposed at once."

Some loss of steel, sorely needed by both defense and civilian industry, seemed inevitable because the steel makers wanted to be sure their blast furnaces were emptied of hot metal in advance of any stoppage.

Philip Murray, head of both the CIO and the strike-threatening Steelworkers union, withheld action until Thursday on a request by the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) for a new strike postponement.

Murray already has put off strike plans three times since Jan. 1. Government officials said they believe he will do so again.

Thursday is the same day the WSB has fixed as its target date for getting out recommendations for settling the complex dispute—involving Murray's demands for an 18½ cent hourly pay boost and a score of other items. The Steelworkers presently earn a little under $2 an hour.

Murray told the WSB yesterday that the decision on whether to strike or not will be up to the union's 200-man policy committee, which has been called into session here Thursday. Murray pledged that the union will give the new strike-delay plea "serious consideration."

The union probably will have had a peek at the WSB's findings things stand now, Murray is empowered to call a walkout at any time after midnight Sunday.

Irish Parade Up New York 5th Ave.

NEW YORK (AP) — Green was the garb and merry the music today as the Irish paraded thousands strong up Fifth Avenue.

Bright sunshine splashed the skyscraper walls, and glistened against the costumes of the marchers.

It was the annual St. Patrick's Day parade, and the fashion on the world's richest street was green and more green. Even the asphalt on the street itself wore an emerald stripe down the middle.

The procession stepped off at 12:04 p.m. from 44th St., and headed north to the thump of drums and the blare of bands.

Massed thousands of spectators lined the street, held back by 3,000 police.

A squadron of mounted policemen led the colorful cavalcade, while immediately behind came a large contingent of the 69th ("Fighting Irish") Infantry Regiment.

Then came a potpourri of dozens of societies, sons and daughters of old Ireland, high-stepping drum majorettes, and a raft of city notables in cutaway coats, striped trousers high silk hats, and green sashes. A sprig of shamrock decorated their lapels.

Gen. Morgan's Raid To Be Re-enacted

It won't occur until 1953, but Gen. John Hunt Morgan's famed raid into Columbiana county during Civil War days is going to be re-enacted.

Plans for the re-enactment, a feature of this county's observance when Ohio celebrates its sesqui-centennial in 1953, were discussed at a meeting Sunday in the village hall at Lisbon.

Edward Pugh of Wellsville, celebration chairman for the district, presided.

Gen. Morgan's raid ended at West Point. Pugh said an appeal would be made for horses and riders for the 1953 "raid."

Boxing Monopoly Charges Filed

I.B.C. Controls Boxing, Government Claims

NEW YORK (AP) — The International Boxing Clubs of New York and Illinois were charged today with conspiring to monopolize the professional championship boxing business in the United States. The Department of Justice complaint was made in a civil action in federal court.

Owners of the clubs, James D. Norris of New York and Arthur M. Wirtz of Chicago, and the Madison Square Boxing Corporation of New York, also were named defendants.

Norris Issues Statement

In Miami Beach, Fla., where he is vacationing, Norris said, "as far as we are concerned we've acted on the advice of counsel who said all our actions were strictly legal. If the government finds otherwise, we'll just have to change."

The charges were announced by Melville C. Williams, chief of the Department of Justice's anti-trust division.

Accused of Conspiring

The defendants are accused of conspiring to restrain and monopolize championship boxing bouts.

The clubs, of which Norris is president, are the chief promoters of professional championship boxing matches in the country.

Williams said they promoted or participated in the presentation of about 90 per cent of all championship contests since 1949.

The complaint says the defendants obtained contracts from champions and leading contenders in all major weight divisions requiring, as a condition of participating in title bouts, to box exclusively for the IBC.

Control Radio, TV Rights

Through this means, the charges said, the IBC had excluded others from the promotion of such fights, and controlled the sale of radio, television and motion picture rights at the contests.

The defendants also were accused of obtaining exclusive use of all principal arenas in New York, Chicago and other large cities suitable for staging championship bouts.

Through the conspiracy, the charges said, the defendants had succeeded in 1949 in eliminating the Tournament of Champions, Inc., the leading competing promoter of championship matches.

No Last Minute Rush Reported In Tax Office

No last minute rush developed this year in the Salem internal revenue office, according to J. W. Byrns, deputy collector in charge of the office.

Only five applicants came to his office this morning, he said. Midnight tonight is the last time on which returns can be filed. Returns postmarked after that will be considered late.

Byrns estimated about 150 applicants came to his office each day from Jan. 15 to March 1, after which time the number tapered off.

Only 93 applicants came in Saturday, he said, and 82 the previous Saturday.

U.N. Plane Attacked Another POW Camp, Communists Say

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Communist truce negotiators today accused the U.N. Command of carrying out another "criminal" aerial attack on a prisoner of war camp in North Korea.

The Reds said a British soldier was wounded when an Allied plane strafed a camp near Changsong before dawn Sunday.

A second group of negotiators working on truce supervision began the thorny job of picking five ports of entry for troops and material on each side of the battle line following Communist acceptance of a U. N. "package deal" Sunday.

An Allied staff officer said approval of the five-point plan represented "the most progress in two months."

Chinese Col. Tsai Cheng-Wen said the Allied plane opened fire on the Changsong prison camp despite "conspicuous markings" on the tents. He admitted under questioning, however, that the camp was not lighted.

"It must be fiercely pointed out," Tsai said, "that while your side has massacred continually and at will the captured personnel of our side... your side has carried out successive bombing and strafing against the captured personnel of your side."

For these successive criminal acts, your side bears grave responsibility toward our side and the people of the whole world."

Refers to Bloody Riots

Tsai's statement referred to two bloody riots at the U.N. Kojie Island prison camp. Thursday 12 North Korean prisoners of war were killed and 26 wounded. Feb. 18, 75 Korean civilian internees were killed and 129 were wounded.

Tsai lodged a strong protest Sunday declaring "such barbarous massacres would not be further tolerated."

U. S. Army authorities said Thursday's riot began when Communist war prisoners and a group of cooperative prisoners began hurling stones at one another. South Korean guards accompanied the cooperative prisoners opened fire.

Members of the U. S. 27th Infantry Regiment fired on the Korean civilian internees last February after the prisoners attacked with a wide variety of homemade weapons when the soldiers entered a compound to screen out anti-Communists.

Jan. 14 the Reds declared that Allied planes bombed a prisoner of war camp at Kangdong, killing 10 Allied soldiers and wounding more than 60.

M'Mahon Motion Put Off After Hour's Meeting

Senator Connally Refuses To Say If Formal Vote Taken

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today put off a decision on whether to ask Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to fly home and testify on the $7,900,000 foreign aid bill.

After an hour's committee discussion behind closed doors, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) announced it had been decided to delay action on a motion by Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) to request testimony from Eisenhower.

Connally said this was done because "several" committee members were absent. As far as reporters could see, only Senators Lodge (R-Mass.) and Brewster (R-Me.) were not present.

Lodge heads the Eisenhower-for-President Committee. Brewster is a supporter of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination.

Offer Substitute Motion

Connally refused to say whether the committee took any formal vote.

However, Senator Tobey (R-NH) told an A. P. reporter that a 7 to 5 vote rejected a motion by Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) that the committee "invite" Eisenhower to testify but leave the final decision to him. Wiley's motion was offered as a substitute for McMahon's motion that the committee "summon" Eisenhower.

Tobey said Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) then moved for reconsideration of the vote on the Wiley motion and Gillette's motion carried unanimously. This left the whole matter still up in the air.

Tobey reported, and another committee member confirmed, that Senators Wiley, Tobey, Gillette, McMahon and Green (D-RI) supported the Wiley motion.

Lodge Votes By Proxy

Tobey said that Lodge voted by proxy against Wiley's motion. Others listed as opposing it were Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), Smith (R-NJ), Brewster (R-Me) by proxy, George (D-Ga), Sparkman (D-Ala), Fulbright (D-Ark).

Tobey said Chairman Connally was not recorded on the vote.

Tobey was reported to have criticized Connally in the closed meeting for failing to vote.

McMahon announced to reporters that he would bring the matter up in the Senate for discussion.

McMahon told the Associated Press the effect of today's session was to postpone any invitation to Eisenhower until after his chief deputy, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, has testified.

McMahon said he will bring the matter up again at that time.

Probation Breaker To Pay $500 Fine

A $500 fine, held in abeyance by Mayor Harry M. Vincent, was reimposed Sunday on James H. Jeffries, 36, of the Franklin Rd., following his arrest by State Highway Patrolmen at 3 a. m. on the Pidgeon Rd. on an intoxication charge.

Jeffries received the $500 fine, Feb. 14 after he had been arrested by police at the intersection of N. Lincoln Ave. and E. Third St. and charged with drunken driving, his fourth such offense.

Mayor Vincent held the fine in abeyance on the condition that Jeffries submit for treatment at the Youngstown Receiving Hospital. His arrest Sunday violated the probation.

He was also penalized $25 and costs on the patrol's intoxication charge.

Construction Trends

Housing Boom Sweeps Nation
Despite Government Controls

THE NATION apparently has a brand new, full-scale housing boom on its hands despite government controls designed to hold down home building.

For the second straight month, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports a substantial increase in housing output with all sections of the country sharing in the rise.

The bureau estimates 77,000 new homes and apartments were put into construction last month. That's 13 per cent more than the 68,000 dwellings counted in January.

Government officials, puzzled somewhat over the building spree, say the rise in homebuilding will continue until the end of this month and may run along uninterrupted until next summer.

The Federal Reserve Board, however, has a different view. It plans to use the BLS figures as a potent point in its fight for renewal of credit controls on home buying to curb housing output.

In January, the BLS said home building rose ten per cent over December because of repeated government threats to tighten controls over the entire construction industry.

LAST MONTH, the threats subsided and the National Production Authority moved to relax controls on residential construction as well as most other segments of the building industry.

NPA's action plus an easing in the shortage of mortgage loan money may have helped to stimulate housing output but BLS officials say they are not altogether sure what happened to boost output.

Specifically, the bureau estimates private home building jumped 15 per cent from 64,700 dwellings in January to 74,500 units in February. Public housing volume, however, dropped from 3,300 units to 2,500.

The government's battle for renewal of real estate credit controls opens before the Senate Banking Committee next week with both sides in the controversy declining to predict the outcome.

There are indications that a compromise may be arranged to permit a loosening of the regulations for all homes costing less than $15,000 although builders will press for abolition of the regulations.

LAST SEPTEMBER, the Federal Reserve Board had full authority to prescribe credit terms but Congress decided to liberalize the controls for all houses costing under $12,000. Rigid terms were continued for so-called luxury homes.

Federal reserve officials want not only a two-year extension of the regulations but also the broad power to set credit controls for all home price levels. They base their argument on:

1. A fear of further inflation later this year. With defense spending rising steadily and a deficit in the government budget, the board wants all the anti-inflation tools it can obtain.

2. The fact that home building shows no signs of remaining within the 800,000 unit goal set by the government. Latest BLS figures indicate volume this year will run close to one million dwellings.

"On the contrary, the National Association of Home Builders claims the government has "largely overcome the inflation problem in housing." It feels the controls should be removed entirely and home buying left to "natural forces" rather than government supervision.

HOUSING NOTES: Carrying on its campaign for attractive, low-cost homes, the housing industry has announced a nationwide contest for the best designed house of 1952.

Sponsored by NAHB and the American Institute of Architects, the contest will be held in May and NAHB says the program will help stimulate "better style, form and beauty in new homes of 1952."

The Veterans Administration says World War II vets are paying back their GI home, farm and business loans at a rapid clip.

Latest VA figures show one billion, 500 million dollars worth of the loans have been paid back in full. This amounts to nine per cent of the 16 billion, 800 million dollars worth of loans approved by the agency.

Veterans officials say nine per cent of the 2,602,069 GI home loans approved have been paid back. Less than 13,000 of these mortgages were in default at the beginning of this year.

Two Building Permits
Issued During Week

Two building permits were issued in the city during the past week.

Clarence A. Walker will have general repairs and alterations made to his property at 340 Ohio Ave. at an estimated cost of $2,500.

Contractor M. L. Hans secured a permit to replace a staircase on the side of the building at 580 E. State St. Steel, concrete and brick will be used in the construction. The cost will be approximately $2,800.

The Question Box

Q—What is the best finish for hardwood veneer furniture?

A—No single finish is best for every species of wood and for all kinds of furniture pieces. If there is a rule to follow it is that a natural-looking finish is always desirable. The only reasons for finishing furniture are to enhance the natural beauty of the wood and to protect it from dirt, grease, liquid stains and heat. Thick or extra shiny finishes should be avoided.

Q—What preparation is necessary before repainting hot-water cast-iron radiators?

A—First, remove loose particles of rust, paint and dust by rubbing vigorously with a wire brush. Then wash with turpentine to remove all traces of oil and grease. Any oil paint or enamel can be used for the new finish, but flat wall paint usually is more resistant to blistering and peeling than other finishes.

Q—Is it necessary to provide a base for a concrete walk?

A—If there is good natural drainage and the soil is loose enough for the water to sink, the concrete can be poured directly on the earth. There should be a six-inch foundation of clear gravel or cinders where drainage is poor and water is likely to collect under the walk.

Many Defects
Can Cause
Sticking Doors

THERE ARE few things more exasperating than a sticking door. Until you learn whether to put your weight on the knob or to lift up on it to open the door, you may lose several finger nails and the better part of your disposition.

Prime cause of sticking doors is poorly-placed hinges. Doors also stick when the door has warped out of shape and doesn't fit the frame, and when the frame has changed shape until it no longer fits the door.

To check, push the door closed and examine the gap between the door and the frame all the way around. If the space is narrow on one side and wide on the other, the hinges may be set wrong on the door. Doors that fit correctly when hung may swell until they are too large for the opening of the frame. Check for cracks in the plaster around the door. Cracks are usually evidence that the frame has shrunk or settled and is binding the door at one or more points.

THERE ISN'T much to be done with a frame that has changed shape without dismantling it. Make the corrections on the door itself.

Check the hinges by removing the pins and taking the door out of the frame. If the hinge plates on either the door or the frame are loose, they must be tightened. If the wood is too worn around the screws, either use longer screws or plug the holes and reset the hinge plates.

If the door sticks along the "lock" side, cut the hinge recesses longer on the door and reset. If the high spot on the door is on the "hinge" side, it is probably because the hinges are set too deeply. Remove both plates of the hinge and put cardboard under them and replace. If the lower outside corner sticks put cardboard under the lower hinge to lift the corner.

IF THE DOOR is swelled because of moisture, remove the door from the frame and plane it down on the hinge side until it fits the frame freely. If it still hangs at the top, lower it on the hinges or if it sticks at the bottom because of a warped or damaged threshold, plane off the bottom edge. As you will be planing across the grain, be careful or you will split the edge. If the amount to be removed is slight, it will be better to use sandpaper or a block.

In adjusting the door so that it will open, you may have raised or lowered it to the point where the lock misses the plate on the frame. Remove the plate from the frame and enlarge the square hole in the frame and replace the plate in the proper position.

U.S. Home Building Industry Blackened By "Pickle Packers"

THE "PICKLE packers" have given a black eye to conscientious, reputable home builders.

That was the comment today from Alan E. Brockbank, president of the National Association of Home Builders, in discussing Congressional hearings concerning alleged defects in some FHA and GI housing.

"Pickle packers" were identified as inexperienced opportunists who came into the home building business shortly after V-J Day, made a fast buck, dissolved their building corporations and moved out.

He estimated, however, that less than .04 of 1% of post-war homes are involved in charges of shoddy construction before the Rains subcommittee of the House Banking and Currency Committee. He said six million post-war units have been started.

The reputable builder, who has made a career of providing quality homes, is stuck with "pickle packers' mistakes now coming to light, Brockbank said.

He advised home purchasers to buy from builders who have stood behind their product. He said NAHB members now build 30% of all new housing in metropolitan areas and few "pickle packers" could stand current competition.

HE ALSO pointed out that for many years the National Association of Home Builders has endorsed the idea of giving new home buyers a "Home Owner's Service Policy" and that this is now a written part of NAHB policy.

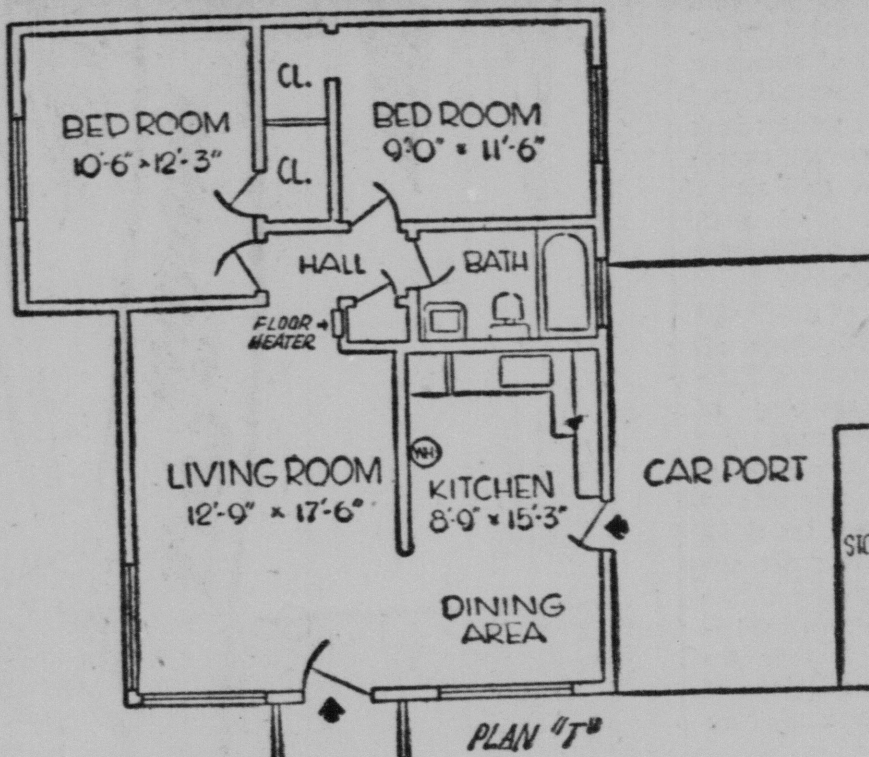

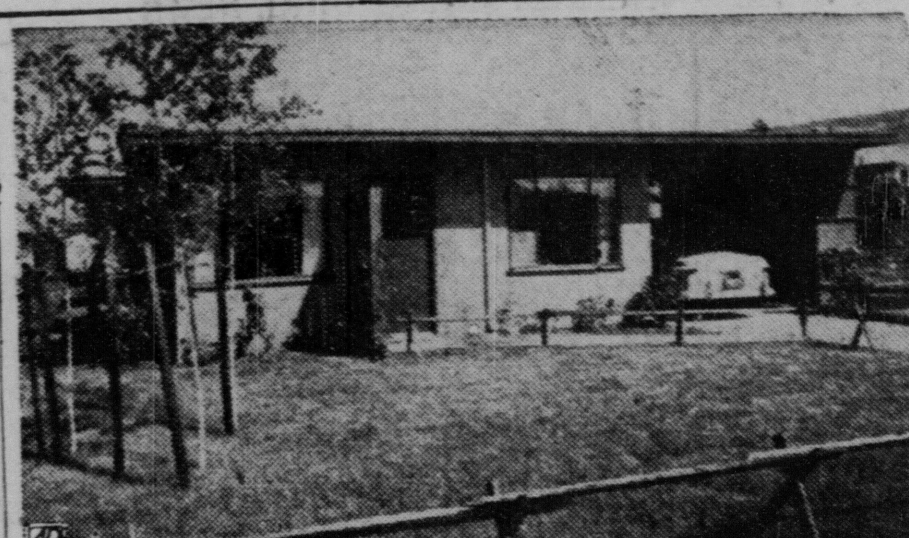

The "Home Owner's Service Policy" is a printed document explaining in layman's language the maintenance responsibilities of the builder when he turns the house over to the buyer.

Accompanying the service policy is a "manual of information" which explains to buyers how to take proper care of their new home.

Brockbank said the NAHB and its 25,000 members are cooperating fully with Congress in investigating charges of alleged inferior construction.

"WE WELCOME any assistance in our vigorous campaign to raise construction standards and to improve techniques. We've been doing this for 10 years now and applaud any effort to improve housing conditions.

Regarding the complaints heard so far by the Congressional subcommittee, Brockbank said he believed that some complaints have been magnified far beyond their importance. "The vast majority of CALIFORNIA economy through simplicity is exemplified in this compact cottage—the first of the new houses offered for rent to defense workers under the National Defense Housing program. Designed and built by Earl W. Smith in Shore Acres, near Pittsburg, Calif., it covers about 750 square feet, without carport. Basement is eliminated, heat is supplied by a floor furnace and slab floors are covered with asphalt tile.

post-war home buyers are pleased with their new homes and wouldn't think of selling at the price they paid."

"A few complaints arise from misunderstandings as to where the builder's responsibility ends and the buyer's begins, as concerns home maintenance. This is especially true in cases where families are buying a home for the first time.

"TOO OFTEN, new home owners never having previously lived in a home of their own, retain the viewpoint of a tenant. They persist in the belief that the builder's responsibility continues even into items that obviously are matters of owner maintenance."

The building executive explained that what frequently appear to be wide-spread complaints on construction or performance, are usually spark-plugged by one disgruntled home buyer in a development.

He emphasized that it was the intent of the 195 building organizations which maintain the NAHB to weed out, wherever they exist, the small number of builders who do not adequately assume their logical responsibilities.

"In all fairness to the vast majority of responsible builders, I hope the public and the Congress will not judge the entire industry on the basis of the acts of a few bad apples," Brockbank concluded.

Barn Roof Vulnerable To Bad Weather

THE ROOF on the main barn usually is more vulnerable than any other farm building roof. Among the reasons for this are:

1—To facilitate drainage, the main barn is the largest building and has the greatest roof area.

2—On almost all farms, the barn is relatively free of partitions, strong internal wind pressures develop whenever barn or haymow doors are open. These pressures can become high enough to lift off a flimsy roof deck or poorly applied roofing material.

3—Because the interior of a barn is relatively free of partitions, strong internal wind pressures develop whenever barn or haymow doors are open. These pressures can become high enough to lift off a flimsy roof deck or poorly applied roofing material.

WHEN REROOFING a barn with asphalt roofing, the old surface must be reconditioned to provide a smooth, solid nailing base for the new material. In most cases, the old roofing need not be removed but can be repaired sufficiently to serve as a deck. Loose and warped wood shingles should be nailed firmly in place and missing shingles should be replaced. To increase the smoothness of the surface wood "feathering" strips may be nailed along the butts of the old shingles.

To insure that a barn roof will give satisfactory service recommended application procedures should be followed. Six nails are needed for each three-tab, square butt, asphalt strip shingle. For maximum resistance to wind, each tab can be spot-cemented with quick-setting asphalt cement. Special interlocking shingles designed for increased wind-resistance also can be used.

THE MOST serviceable kind of roll roofing for permanent farm structures is the 19-inch selvage edge type. This roll roofing is produced in 36-inch-wide sheets, and it is applied with a 19-inch lap, giving complete double coverage. The 17-inch-wide exposed portion comes surfaced with mineral granules.

Nineteen-inch selvage edge roofing is suitable for roofs with a rise of as little as one inch per foot. Some manufacturers specify hot asphalt for bonding sheets of the roofing together at the laps. Others recommend cold cement, and some make roofing suitable for either hot or cold application. In both cases, all nails are concealed.

Test Last Year's Seeds Before Planting Them

MOST back-yard vegetable gardeners are generous souls and not only give away much of their harvest but also purchase each spring more seed than is needed.

Fortunately, old seed—at least that left from last season—may be used with success this year.

It is wise, however, to test it before sowing. Poor seeds cause failures and it is better to discard what you have rather than take a chance on untested seed.

Some kinds of seed germinate well after being kept several years but others such as pepper, onion, corn, lose their viability after two years. Testing seed is easily done by placing a given number, say 10, between two strips of blotting paper or soft white paper and inserting in a pan or flat dish of moist sand.

If the sand is kept moist and warm for several days, possibly a week, the best of the seeds will sprout. By counting the number of sprouted seeds the gardener can determine the percentage of germination.

WITH MOST vegetables, seven out of each 10 seeds is a splendid average and indicates that your seed may be sown with safety.

A very simple method is to place a wet blotting paper in a saucer, place the 10 seeds on it and cover by inverting a glass tumbler. This tumbler conserves moisture and in three or four days the fertile seeds will sprout.

By this method one can watch the seeds as they burst open and show signs of life. Seed testing must be done in a warm room where the temperature is more or less regular.

WHILE SOME seeds, under specialized conditions, will hold their germinating qualities for many years, the average period is rather short. Wheat seed has been known to retain its viability for 30 years, but the stories that seeds removed from Egyptian tombs retained their power to germinate are not true.

Seeds of lettuce, peas, onion, beet, early cabbage and a couple of other vegetables may be sown as soon as the soil in the garden is ready, since they will germinate when the thermometer stands at 50 degrees. Tomato, pepper, corn, beans, melon and similar seed, however, will rot in the ground if sown before the earth and the air have really warmed up.

First Olympic games of which there is record occurred in 776 B. C. They originally were patriotic, religious and athletic festivals. Modern Olympic games dates from 1896.

City Parking Lots

MAYOR Harry Vincent's recent suggestion to Council that the old City Hall site be converted to a metered parking lot may have been construed as premature. It isn't. The mayor is thinking away ahead of the rest of us.

And the fact remains, his suggestion is the best yet on what to do with the ground once the historic, old municipal building is razed or removed to comply with the state fire marshal's oft-repeated demands.

The parking lot proposal rests now with City Council's lands and buildings committee for further study. Let's hope it is given serious thought because a lot at such a strategic location certainly would help Salem's parking problems to some degree.

Instead of criticizing the traffic congestion in Salem, which will get worse this summer, the city's merchants and city officials should work hand in hand toward a program of eventually obtaining several metered parking lots in the downtown area.

Then, and then only, would the merchants be able to dispense their fears that suburban shopping centers would detour shoppers from the heart of the city.

Every Ohio city, as the result of a recent Ohio Supreme Court ruling, has the right of eminent domain to condemn property for the creation of off-street parking facilities. Maybe this wouldn't be required here. But, in the event that the city ever purchases land for parking, meter receipts might pay off mortgage revenue bonds as they come due.

Adequate parking facilities are vital to the healthy growth of the city.

All Facts Found?

THERE will be no opportunity for the public to see the "facts" turned over to the Wage Stabilization Board by its special committee studying ways and means of averting a threatened steel strike.

It must be taken for granted that committee members submitted all the facts available and that WSB will now develop a set of recommendations based on these facts.

Among these, of course, should be the fact United Steelworkers is prepared to shut down the entire steel industry and paralyze all related industries, unless its officials are given enough of what they ask for to save their faces and keep themselves in good grace with union members, especially the minority of malcontents who make a practice of heckling them.

Also included should be the fact that United Mine Workers, led by the fire-eating John L. Lewis, will immediately demand at least as much as the steelworkers settle for either with or without a strike. In due time, there will have to be a fact-finding committee for the coal industry, too.

There will be, in due time, all kinds of fact-finding boards if the steel industry breaks through existing restrictions on wages and prices, because the steel industry is the bellwether of all heavy industry in the United States.

It is no accident that Philip Murray, president of United Steelworkers of America, also is head of the CIO and a power in politics. He holds more economic dynamite in either fist than any other individual in either union labor or management holds in both fists.

That, too, is one of the facts WSB will ponder deeply during the next few days while contriving a formula to avert a national steel strike.

So They Passed A Law

A NUMBER of new jobs and a higher salary scale have been added to the overhead of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

This is the net result of a move to get rid of corruption. It is interesting to note how a switch like this is handled on the highest levels of government.

A number of crooked officials in the bureau had been caught red-handed. A scandal had popped open, because the officials all had been appointed under Democratic patronage and therefore were a disgrace to their patrons.

President Truman saw a chance to get the party off the hook and at the same time take a jab at his favorite foe—Congress. Bureau of Internal Revenue collectors have been appointed by the chief executive on recommendation of his own political party. By putting the collectors' jobs under civil service, one of the prerogatives of senators could be destroyed.

If in the course of doing this, top jobs in the bureau could be reorganized, some new ones added and all the jobs made more remunerative, everybody would be happy except the senators. That was the proposal which Mr. Truman sent to Congress. To make sure no one could misunderstand it, Mr. Truman added the taunt that anyone who was against it was, therefore, in favor of sin and opposed to virtue. Congress yielded to the pressure.

Throw a few more crooks to the wolves and the public will forget the whole thing.

Big Spending

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON

Complacent Americans Should Awaken

ON THE front page of my daily newspaper there appears a dispatch headed: "Total Tax Load of Arkansas Citizens is $372,000,000." On Page 3 there is another dispatch, this one from Washington, D. C. It is headed: "Auditor Figures $50,000,000 Wasted at North African Base."

And elsewhere in the paper there is a small item saying the President will demand Congressional approval of his full $85,000,000,000 budget for the 1952-53 fiscal year.

Many of my acquaintances are disturbed over such news reports, but one man with whom I discussed them shrugged, and said: "Well, so what? We never had it better in this country." He had only casually glanced at the headlines.

He hadn't read the substance of the dispatches. His attitude reminded me of three questions asked by a Harding College student one evening last week during a discussion group session on the dangers of big government.

THE STUDENT asked: "Aren't most people slow to recognize any danger so long as they are doing okay themselves? And aren't most Americans doing all right today with so much money in circulation?" Heads around the discussion table nodded "Yes." "Well, then," the young realist asked, "how can we expect these people to get excited about big spending, corrupt government, etc.?" The conclusion reached at the discussion seemed to be "We can't"—unless the complacent people can somehow be persuaded to look beyond the headlines and view the full implications of what's happening.

If my acquaintance who said, "So what?" had been interested enough to read beyond the headlines, he would have found that 683,000 Arkansas people now are receiving direct benefits from the expenditure of public funds—one third of the state's population!

Some of these 683,000 government handouts are small—no more than 20-25 cents a day—but the disturbing fact is that in a time of record amounts of money in circulation, and with fullest employment, the number receiving some form of public welfare benefits is constantly growing and no one has even the faintest idea that any of the categories of benefits will be eliminated. What else could you call this but a swing toward the Welfare State?

FAR DOWN under the headline reporting $50,000,000 wasted by the U. S. government in North Africa were the sordid details—instances of failure to require competitive bids on purchases, resulting in higher costs; overcharges ranging to 110 per cent and involving "collusion;" "kickbacks" on purchases of supplies; payments of "commissions;" "conspiracy" to boost prices; lack of control over workers; excessive drinking, loafing and sleeping by employees; gifts of wine, gin and jewelry as bribes for fraudulent record keeping.

This is the pattern of graft and corruption that has become all too common in a number of Federal agencies. The wasting of $50,000,000 in tax money may not seem to be of any consequence to the man who says, "So what!" But it is. Unless those involved in the corruption and graft are subjected to the penalties of the laws the incident will breed additional corruption and further undermine the moral foundations of our nation. Can anyone say "So what!" to that?

THERE ARE vitally important facts also behind the news item reporting the President's determination to enact his $85 billion budget. Taxes to cover this one-year Federal spending would amount to $560 for every man, woman and child in America, or $2,240 for a family of four. In addition the $260 billion debt breaks down to an average indebtedness of $7,000 on each family.

And the billions which citizens have been paying into the social security fund for years have been spent; the money's all gone, down the drain of big spending in government.

How can any thoughtful person say, "So what!" to these facts? "We never had it better!" This phrase, when used to describe our present situation in America, reminds me of the opium smoker I once saw lying in a den in Nanking, China.

He raised himself on one elbow and said to me with high animation in his voice: "I have just had dinner with the President! At the Palace!" Complacency can be like a dream-state. Americans must be awakened to the realities of the grave situation developing within our own country. The welfare and happiness of every individual is at stake.

Get A Red Neck

By TRUMAN TWILL

WITH presidential politics being moved to the front burner after simmering on the back of the stove for four years, a comment by James Bryce in "The American Commonwealth" is worth repeating.

This Englishman who had learned more about the United States by 1896 than most Americans have found out since then rated public opinion as the strongest single force in the republic.

He marveled at the ceaseless political discussion among Americans who tried to keep abreast of what was going on. Americans, Bryce pointed out, "think their own competence equal to that of their representatives and office-bearers and they are not far wrong. They do not therefore look up to their statesmen for guidance, but look around to one another, carrying to its extreme the principle that in the multitude of counsellors there is wisdom."

Bryce then stated his great discovery about public opinion in the United States: "It is not so much by or through the machinery of government as by their own practical good sense, which at last finds a solution the politicians may have failed to find, that the American people advance."

There you have it—an objective viewpoint on something which isn't easy to look at objectively. Go ahead and argue your head off until next November. Get a red neck. Go the limit. In a multitude of counsellors there is wisdom.

Remember that everything which will be said and done by the politicians, themselves, will have but one purpose. The politicians will be trying to set up areas of harmony with various sections of public opinion. Ultimately, there is only one political boss in this country—the sovereign people.

What the people think and how they act on what they think is public opinion. It may take a long time to find out what it is and it never has made sense to the old world critics of America that it should take a long time, but the popular will does ultimately prevail in a country whose people think of their officials as servants not masters.

The only thing to be afraid of is people with no will. In 1896, Bryce was deeply impressed because so many Americans voted at the polls. In 1952, he would be deeply depressed because so many of them no longer give a hoot.

That can be interpreted only one way. The non-voters have quit believing in their own competence to discuss and decide their own problems. They have given up on themselves. They are weakening the strongest force in the republic, which is their heritage from generations of people who made a fetish of throwing the rascals out if only to prove they could do it—and they made no party distinctions about doing it, either.

That sort of thing built a country which is still the despair of all the rascals who keep thinking up new stunts to keep themselves from being thrown out. It's significant that the stunts always aim to do the same thing—to keep public opinion bottled up—to keep the practical good sense of the many from thwarting the schemes of the few.

The Matter Of Consumer Credit

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE great productive capacity of the United States has to a large degree been built up by an economic process called variously "consumer credit," or "installment buying." This is a method of purchasing in advance of saving, so that the consumer is actually in possession of the commodity and able to use it while he is paying for it.

For instance, if a family waited until it had accumulated enough money to buy an automobile, it might never have bought one. The money might have been spent or dissipated. In a word, consumer credit is a practical form of savings. The individual "saves" commodities instead of cash.

Throughout the years of the depression, it was found that the losses on this type of business were negligible. The consumer paid as best he could, sometimes delaying payments but in the end paying. This experience over had years encouraged an increasing number of businesses to accept consumer credit as a sound process.

IN AUGUST 1941, the government entered upon active control of consumer credit and delegated the function to the Federal Reserve System, which issued "regulation W," and entered upon the business of licensing firms engaging in this process. The Federal Reserve System policies installment buying, installment loans, consumer credit—whatever you call it.

The Federal Reserve decides the terms and nature of consumer credit and thereby is a factor not only in the final price paid (which includes interest on the borrowed money) but the velocity of the movement of goods.

For instance, it was decided that 15 percent is to the down payment on such items as radios, television, vacuum cleaners, furniture, refrigerators, etc.; 13 1/3 percent is down payment on new automobiles.

All consumer credit payments must be completed in 18 months. The creditor has no option. Let us say that the breadwinner of a family dies and his widow comes to the creditor and asks for three months' grace to straighten out her affairs. The creditor may be willing to grant the extension because he is a decent, fine person and not a shylock.

BUT THE Federal Reserve intervenes and demands what is, in effect, a pauper's oath. The individual has to swear to the revised state of his life. All human relations are eliminated. The widow can no longer go about saying what a fine man Mr. Smith is—he let her off the hook for three months. Smith can now only give her a paper to fill out and sign.

The piece of paper is a one-sheet document, mimeographed on two sides. First comes an explanation which requires a legal advisor because it has all kinds of unclear words.

Then comes "record of action taken"—(to be filled in and signed by the registrant if a renewal, revision, consolidation, or refinancing is granted on the basis of this statement of changed conditions.)

Then on the other side, comes "statement of changed conditions."

The "registrant" is the term used for an American who is buying goods on installments agreed upon in a seller-buyer relationship. I will cite an example:

"My husband and I were both employed and able to pay $28.00 per month. Due to pregnancy, I am unable to work. Our only source of income is $32.00 per week. I can only pay $18.00 per month."

The seller would surely have granted the extension, but he might have got some good will out of it. But no! It must be a cold transaction.

I HAVE EXAMINED, confidentially, of course, a large number of documents. How I got hold of them, I may not say because my source says that it would bring great hardships to the businesses involved.

The interesting fact is that most of the businesses involved in consumer credit do not want "Regulation W" continued. They do not want the pauper's oath. They prefer a restoration of human relations between buyer and seller. They have actually organized themselves into "the national foundation for consumer credit" to oppose the extension of this "Regulation W" which expires on June 30, 1952.

This is one of many measures for the control of the people by the government. For it the only evidence can be that the people fail to pay. There is no statistical data to prove that Americans have welched on their obligations of this type.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Smoking May Affect Health

AGAIN and again, correspondents ask for a discussion of smoking. Some, generally those who are not smokers themselves, expect such a discussion to point out the evils of this weed. Others, usually those who are smokers themselves, would like to be reassured that they are not harming themselves unduly.

The facts as now known do not support either of these points of view entirely. Tobacco smoke irritates the delicate mucous linings of the breathing passages. Coated tongue in heavy smokers is the rule.

The throat and larynx, or voice box, are irritated by heavy smoking and smokers frequently have a slight cough and hoarseness. It may increase the chances of developing lung cancer.

The person who stops heavy smoking suddenly tends to gain weight merely because he eats more. People with ulcers of the stomach frequently are advised not to smoke.

Smoking increases the acid secretions of the stomach and tends to slow healing of an ulcer, according to some authorities.

Excessive smoking interferes with athletic performance. Shortness of breath on exertion after smoking is usual. Athletes in training are not supposed to smoke during the period of their competition.

Many smokers complain of cold hands and feet. This is because the nicotine absorbed causes some of the small blood vessels to contract and, therefore, to carry less warming blood to these regions.

In some people the tightening of the blood vessels is so great after smoking that a temporary increase in blood pressure is produced. Those who have a definite blood vessel disease, such as Burger's disease or Raynaud's disease, should be definitely forbidden to smoke.

Other people whose blood vessels respond unfavorably to smoking probably should give up the habit.

Whether smoking shortens life is highly debatable. One study of this subject came to the conclusion that in men, at least, smokers after the age of 40 have a lower average expectation of life than do nonsmokers.

Different people are affected differently by tobacco smoking. Those who show definitely unfavorable effects or have diseases in which tobacco smoking is pretty well known to be harmful should give up the habit.

The rest may feel that the pleasure of smoking is worth the possible harm. The easiest way to sidestep the issue is not to start.

The tax collector will probably influence more people to stop smoking than any statements about the effect of tobacco on health!

So They Say

Irish

By HAL BOYLE

St. Patrick's Day Feeling

NEW YORK

WHAT IS IT TO BE IRISH?

On 364 days of the year being Irish isn't visibly different from being Scotch, French, Italian, Jewish, Serbian, Dutch or—heaven forgive the word—English.

The Irishman pays his bills, complains against his taxes, does his work, and listens to his wife like the man of any other race.

But on this one day of the year—Holy St. Patrick's Day—the Irishman becomes an Irishman.

And on this day you have to be Irish to know what it is to be Irish.

THE OTHER signs, of course, can be seen by all. The Irishman overnight grows a foot taller and stalks the earth a giant. All traffic lights turn green before him, and if they don't he sees red.

But this air of majesty is only token evidence of interior change. The men of other races who envy the Irishman his bearing on St. Patrick's Day would envy him far more if he could look inside the Irishman's soul. What is it to be Irish?

HOW CAN YOU put the wonder of it into words? If a psychiatrist stretched himself out on his own warm couch after his last customer had gone home, and he dreamed of the man he himself would most like to be—well, he might be perfect, but he'd still be only half an Irishman on St. Patrick's Day. What is it to be Irish?

It is to have an angel in your mouth, turning your prose to poetry. It is to have the gift of tongues, to know the language of all living things. Does an Irishman pause and turn an ear to a tree? It is because on his way he wants to hear what one sleepy bud says to another as it opens its pale green hands to the warm sun of spring.

WHAT is it to be Irish?

Oh, on this day it is music. Not just the cornet in the parading high school band, but the deep, deep music of living, the low, sad rhythms of eternity. The Irishman hears the high song of the turning spheres, the dim lullaby of the worm in its cocoon. All the world is in tune, and he is in step with the tune, the tune that only he can hear.

What is it to be Irish?

It is to live the whole history of his race between a dawn and a dawn—the long wrongs, the bird-sweet joys, the endless hurt of his ancestors since the morning of time in a forgotten forest, the knock-at-his-heart that is part of his religion.

WHAT is it to be Irish?

It isn't only the realization that he is descended from kings. It is the realization that he is a king himself, an empire on two feet striding in power, a strolling continent of awe.

What is it to be Irish?

Why, on St. Patrick's Day, to be Irish is to know more glory, adventure, magic, victory, exultation, gratitude and gladness than any other man can experience in a lifetime. What is it to be Irish? It is to walk in complete mystic understanding with God for 24 wonderful hours.

Bliss Reports On '51 Profits

Net Earnings Gain Except At Canton

The E. W. Bliss Co., reports a net profit of $3,223,968 for 1951 before provision of $1,850,000 for income taxes and renegotiation. The net for 1950 was $1,760,390 before a tax provision of $383,326.

In the annual report to stockholders, Howard U. Herrick, president, said all divisions of the company recorded improvements in net earnings from 1950, except the Canton division.

He said the Canton division showed a loss in excess of $1,800,000 and "thus adversely affected the ratio of net earnings before taxes to shipments for the company as a whole in 1951."

However, he added the management "confidently anticipates a substantial improvement in the operations of the Canton division in 1952."

At the end of last year, Bliss had an order backlog of approximately $72,000,000 including substantial contracts for the Armed Forces. The backlog at the end of 1950 was $27,061,437.

Net sales for 1951 were $41,667,873, almost double net sales of $21,557,951 in 1950. Earnings retained in the business at the end of the year were $13,432,325 as against $12,742,963 at the end of 1950.

Total current assets at the end of 1951 were $20,342,238 as against $11,343,188 at the end of the previous year. Total current liabilities were $8,676,097 as against $2,426,228 at the end of 1950.

"Property expenditures for the year 1951 in the amount of $908,514 exceeded by $434,641 charges for depreciation and amortization for the year," the stockholders also were told. "The major portion of the monies so expended was for the benefit of the Canton division."

WHAT ARE TODAY'S FACTS ABOUT NEW CAR ENGINES AND POWER STEERING?

LAST YEAR Chrysler introduced its new FirePower V-8 engine, and America's first passenger car full-time power steering. Both new ideas "took hold" in a big way.

Today, others are announcing "new engines" and "power steering" . . . but with some basic differences worth keeping in mind if you're buying a new car.

First: about "new engines." The fact is, a really new engine design happens only once in a great while. It did happen in the FirePower V-8. Its 180 h.p. was only incidental to its basic new design. Its key idea is a hemispherical combustion chamber, which makes even non-premium gasoline develop more usable power than other designs can get from premium fuel.

Only Chrysler engineering has so far mastered this design. Several cars do have some power increase, in terms of previous designs. The important fact is that FirePower is not a "warmed-over" engine, but brand new in performance, construction, and efficiency.

In power steering, too, there are basic differences. Chrysler uses hydraulic power, always in effect, to do two things. First, it does 4/5 the steering work as you turn the wheel. Second, we've cut the amount of wheel turn needed by over 1/3.

Parking or cruising, you get more and easier control than ever before. In sand, snow, or ruts, the hydraulic power is always there to keep the front wheels from "steering back" at you.

You get the same amount and feel of control all the time . . . full-time ease and full-time safety.

Actually, the differences, both in engine performance and in steering safety and ease are impossible to put in words . . . but just as impossible not to feel the moment you get into a Chrysler and drive it! Why not see your Chrysler dealer and do that, soon?

Mata, Hari, Dance Satirists,
To Perform In Salem Friday

Ruth Mata, Eugene Hari

RUTH MATA and Eugene Hari, international dance satirists who present an evening of dance theater at 8:15 p.m. Friday on the stage of the high school auditorium, saw America first as dancing comedians for a famous European troupe whose headquarters were in Switzerland.

Under the auspices of the Columbiana County Community Concert Association, the dancers are the last of the artists on the 1951-52 concert series here. Renewals of membership for the coming season will be accepted the night of the concert.

Membership Week
Monday, March 24, is membership week, starting with dinner at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the Presbyterian Church for team captains, officers and workers.

The entire list of ticket-holders to the concert is expected to attend the Mata and Hari performance Friday because their dancing is well-known on both television and stage shows.

Both were born and brought up in a suburb of Zurich, Switzerland. After four American tours, Mata and Hari, whose real names are Meta Krahn and Paul Ulbricht, decided to become American citizens so they entered the concert field here.

Had Classic Training
A background of classic training in many dance forms belongs to the couple, but the spark that sets off their hilarious and highly individual act comes from their own lighthearted viewpoint.

They have appeared from coast to coast in a long list of supper clubs including La Martinique, the Hotel Pierre, Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe in New York and others. In "The Straw Hat Revue" they made their bow on Broadway.

Later they appeared in the Olsen and Johnson Stage musical, "Laughing Room Only." Mata and Hari have also been acclaimed by audiences in New York's two major movie palaces which specialize in stage entertainment.

The Radio City Music Hall and the Roxy. Their talents also have been featured in successful movie.

"Little Quaker"
To Be Out April 4

Members of the Quakerette staff at Salem Junior High School are assisting in publishing the second issue of "The Little Quaker" written by pupils of the school.

Annual To Appear

Sewing classes taught by Mrs. Lulu McCarthy had a "clothesline" of aprons made by the girls on display in the hall of Junior High last week.

Library Notes
For the past few weeks Junior High School students have been using their library privileges for research reading for the current conservation essay contest sponsored by the American Legion.

Cash prizes have whetted students interest sufficiently to keep the reference books and pamphlets busy for all phases of wildlife, soil, forest and water conservation. The contest includes both 7th and 8th grades and is being conducted by the English teachers, who also spend hours checking and outlining material.

Library circulation has reached 7,772 for this school year as compared to last year's 5,956 for the same period.

The approach of Spring finds interest in baseball stories rising as abruptly as the lure of football decreased. Mystery, animal and career stories are the perennial favorites.

Wild life fans have been favored by the recent addition of "Snow Dog," "Midnight," and "Wild Dog of Edmonton." Two new nature books are "Nature's Ways" and "A First Book of Tree Identification."

Sixteen Quintets Set For Final Rounds At Columbus

1952 Cage Classic Scheduled For Action Thursday Afternoon

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio's high school basketball championship—the dream of every kid and coach—were within the grasp today of two teams capable of running up a three-game winning streak.

And each of 16 quintets, eight in Class A and eight in Class B, believed it was a team of destiny as the survivors of Ohio's long tournament grind headed into this weekend's title-deciding games.

Eliminated in the trek down "heart-break highway" were exactly 1100 of the state's 1116 squads. Still on deck were some amazing teams, and a few which were just amazed. But all of them won their crack at the crown by upsetting top-flight foes when the chips were down in the "lose and out" tournaments.

TWO GIANT KILLERS, making their first appearance in the big show, launch to Class A competition Thursday as opponents. They are Cincinnati Withrow (20-3), which eliminated Hamilton's top-rated Big Blue, and Columbus Aquinas (14-11), which side-tracked Columbus East's 1951 champions.

The two newcomers clash at 1:30 p.m. at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum. At 3 p.m. Middletown's three-time champions, making their ninth appearance in the state meet, tangle with Cleveland St. Ignatius (20-3) here for the third time.

One evening Class A contest sends Steubenville's unbeaten Big Red (26-0) against Toledo Central Catholic (19-4). Steubenville has been to the state meet twice, losing each time in the first round, while Toledo Central Catholic has gone to the championship round twice in four previous tries, only to lose both.

Cleveland West, another first timer with an 18-1 record, runs into tourney veteran Akron North in the other evening game.

LaSalle Praised After NIT Win

NEW YORK (UP) — Scholarly, jovial Ken Loeffler, coach of those amazing LaSalle Explorers who stunned experts and NCAA alike by winning the National Invitation Tournament, was showered with praise today for his artful coaching.

And Loeffler, in turn, credited the surprise triumph to—"A bunch of skinny kids and a flash-pivot offense."

The guiding genius of the small, balding Loeffler was greatly overlooked while the Explorers were sweeping through four of the toughest teams in the nation, led by Frosh Whiz Tom Gola and "Whirling Dervish" Norm Grekin to gain a place in the Olympic tryouts, starting March 29. Gola and Grekin were jointly voted the "most valuable player" award.

"They were beautifully coached," admitted Coach Tom Blackburn, whose Dayton Flyers lost in the title game to LaSalle, 76-64, on Saturday. "They know how to take advantage of every opportunity."

Tribe Pitchers Are Impressive

Hurlers Throw 26 Scoreless Innings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cleveland's usually slow-starting pitchers already are looking about the way they looked last season: Terrific.

Bob Feller unlimbered his arm competitively for the first time yesterday, against the San Francisco Seals, and pitched three scoreless innings with only one hit. Usually Feller gets tagged hard in training.

Bob Lemon hurled nine straight zero innings. Early Wynn and Mike Garcia each pitched three-inning shutouts yesterday.

All told, Cleveland pitchers, until the rookies got on the mound yesterday, had pitched 26 consecutive scoreless innings. Last year, the pitchers allowed an average of 11 runs a game in exhibitions, then turned into the best in baseball during the regular season.

THE INDIANS now have won five exhibitions, lost none. They beat Oakland, 4-0, yesterday morning and San Francisco, 4-3, in the afternoon.

Manager Al Lopez could hardly have asked for a better performance than he got in the first game: Wynn permitted one hit in three; Lou Brissie handled the next three and allowed two; then Garcia wound up and the Oaks couldn't get one from him.

The game also marked Luke Easter's first appearance of the season. He went in as a pinch hitter and got a single.

Feller and Lemon pitched their innings in the second game. In the hitting category, the Indians got 13 in the first game, then settled down to a familiar pattern in the second, managing to collect six hits off three Major League rejects.

THE SLUGGERS for the day: Outfielder Harry Simpson, five hits in six times at bat; Rookie Outfielder Jim Fridley, a double and two singles in four times at bat (now he has 10 hits in 18 trips to the plate); and Quincy Troupe, rookie catcher, who hit the first homer of the season for the Indians, a 340-foot clout in the Oakland game off ex-Indian Al Gettel.

The Indians open a barnstorming tour around Los Angeles today, starting with Bill Veech's "new" St. Louis Browns...

Second baseman George Stinewiss finally has joined up—with a cut over his left eye. He got hit with a baseball working out with the Rutgers University team while he was holding out...

Lopez tried, but failed, to talk Sam Chapman out of quitting the Indians. Sam still wants to play for Oakland. First, Lopez says he'll have to get waivers on him.

Moore Here Tuesday Night For Banquet

Donald "Dudey" Moore, head coach of the Duquesne Dukes, will be the guest speaker at the annual Salem Boosters Club basketball banquet Tuesday evening at the Memorial Building.

The occasion will be Moore's first speaking appearance in 1952 and promises to be interesting.

Dudey Moore

with his team slated to play in the NCAA tournament which opens Friday, just three days after his engagement here.

Although his first seeded Duquesne team was knocked from the NIT by a surprising LaSalle outfit which later became the champion, Moore expects a better performance in the NCAA.

In 1950 his team was also beaten in the second round as they were this year. However, again they were the victims of the team that later was to be the title winner, CCNY.

Dudey himself was a member of Duquesne's cage team of 1934 when they had a string of 23 straight games at one time. His present team, however, holds the best record in the history of the school with a 21-1 mark. His four-year record at the school is 76-20.

Local Turns Over Control To CIO

DETROIT (AP)—Peacefully and without any apparent resistance, Ford Local 600 of the CIO United Auto Workers turned over its control to the international union today.

The four top officers of local 600 yielded their posts to an administrative group assigned by the UAW international executive board.

The administrative group went to Local 600's headquarters in suburban Dearborn.

As a number of local 600 members looked on, the group entered the building and went into conference in the office of Carl Stellato, president.

Stellato and three co-officials of the local had been removed by the UAW international executive board on charges that they failed to keep Communist influences out of the local's management.

Only yesterday the international fired five minor officials of the local.

After the action against the top officers, one of the latter, William R. Hood, recording secretary, said he would not "happily give up my office." Hood said he would refuse to "abjectly surrender without counsel with my membership." Apparently, however, Hood made no effort to resist.

19,000-Man Draft Call Is Asked For

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today issued a May draft call for 19,000 men—15,000 for the Army and 4,000 for the Marine Corps.

The May call will bring to 913,430 the total number of Americans drafted or called to duty with the armed forces since selective service was resumed in September, 1950.

The Army's share of the draft now totals 832,000. The May call boosts to 81,430 the number of Marine draftees.

The May call for 19,000 men is for the same number of draftees as in April.

Price Gains, Losses Balance Trading

NEW YORK (INS)—The stock market was a generally mixed trading affair today with gains and losses fairly evenly balanced through the list as a whole.

With a union decision on postponing next Sunday's steel strike deadline put off until Thursday, few traders were inclined to add to present stock commitments in view of the possibility that the industry-wide walkout might begin on schedule.

Wall Street attention continued to be centered on the oils where reports of new discoveries spurred fresh buying impetus. Union Oil of California was the feature with a gain of a point to a new high at 45. Standard of New Jersey, Socony-Vacuum and Lion Oil were up fractionally, but Amerasia sold off 1 1/2 points.

Profit-taking took place in Northern Pacific which was down nearly a point, following last week's run-up of 8 points. Other rails were a shade higher including New York Central, Rock Island and Southern Pacific.

Pivotal industrial leaders were spotty with small gains credited to General Motors, Chrysler and U. S. Steel, and fractional losses sustained by DuPont and Kennecott.

curities or jewelry she carried.

Redfield reported $300,000 cash, some $250,000 in jewelry and $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 in securities was stolen in his safe.

Securities Also Found

Gerald Norris, chief FBI agent in Arizona, said the securities found in Mrs. Machaud's possession consisted of 179,721 1/2 shares of stock in 57 corporations, "some of which are very substantial companies."

Norris said the jewelry included a diamond and emerald piece valued at $10,000, a necklace of 75 pearls valued at $10,000, a diamond baguette valued at $2,600 and a diamond ring valued at $3,150.

Almost simultaneously with her arrest agents hoisted the safe from a well concealed mine shaft in desolate country near Reno. It was smashed and empty.

The safe had been stolen in a nighttime burglary. Investigating officers said the safe stealers unquestionably had inside information. The safe was well hidden, the burglary was timed while the Redfields were at lunch, and the watch dog was pacified with a ham bone.

Investigating officers hinted Mrs. Machaud was the finger woman.
